LEAD-IN: *The Lord reigns, let the earth be glad;
 let the distant shores rejoice.
 Clouds and thick darkness surround him;
 righteousness and justice are the foundation of his throne.
 Fire goes before him
 and consumes his foes on every side.
 His lightning lights up the world;
 the earth sees and trembles.
 The mountains melt like wax before the Lord,
 before the Lord of all the earth.
 The heavens proclaim his righteousness,
 and all the peoples see his glory. (Psalm 97:1-6, NIV)*

LEAD-IN DEVOTIONAL READING:

Eternal God

Eternal God, You overflow all the vast universe and all human thought and imagination.

Though You are consistent,
You consistently stretch every comfortable understanding of You.

But what you require of us is amazingly, stunningly simple:
Trust Me.

As we trust You, we live in the comforting truth of Your greatness and our smallness.

As we trust You, we fear You and fear nothing else.

As we trust You, all the world is a lush forest,
dense with Your life and mysterious beauty.

As we trust You, our horizons are as vast as You are.
We share Your character,
Your power,
Your goodness, and
Your unlimited future.

As we trust You, we are unmoved by threats and unconcerned about unknowns.
Fruitless worry disappears into peace when we see only You.

Sovereign God, You dwell in eternity, unmoved by time.
Your promises,
Your purposes,
Your burning love
are always now, always sure, always undiminished.
You speak, and it is so.
Why do we hesitate to trust You?
Why are we ever afraid?
