LEAD-IN: *Lord, you have been our dwelling place
throughout all generations.
Before the mountains were born
or you brought forth the earth and the world, from everlasting to everlasting you are God. (Psalm 90:1-2, NIV)*

LEAD-IN DEVOTIONAL READING:

You Are My Home

Father, the body I inhabit is destined to die, and probably not without pain.

Sooner or later, I will lose my battle for comfort,
health, and physical life.

But as I look up into the clear night sky,
I realize that my home is not this frail body.

Neither is it this tiny, ingrown world
in which my mind lives most of the time.

My home is not
this house,
this neighborhood, or any of the physical surroundings in which I spend my days.

My home is all eternity.

My home is Your entire reality,

O Omnipotent Father!

My home is everywhere You are!

You are my home!

My home is Your heart.

My walls are Your power.

My roof is Your transcendent magnificence.

My future is the farthest reaches of Your boundless life and unfailing love.

O Lord, my God, my world will be filled with knowing You

completely,
intimately,
constantly.

That is where I want to live.

That is where I will live.

And that eternity has already begun.

The Sun of Righteousness
has dawned in me.

The light is growing, and
the darkness is receding.

I stand on the rim of this planet and
lift my hands and say,

“I love You,
Almighty Creator,
Exalted Father,
my Source and
my Goal!

You are my home,
now and forever!”
