LEAD-IN DEVOTIONAL READING:

My Holy and Human Brother

Lord Jesus, You bring God within my reach.
 You are flesh and blood like me.
 You experienced life here as I experience it, in all its weakness,
 pain,
 struggle, and
 imperfection.

Yet in You I see the transcendent God,
 and in a form I can understand and trust.

Almighty, sovereign God is real to me in You.
 I can begin to relate to Him in You.

Holiness is also real to me in You.
 I would never conceive of holy living,
 never dream of it or desire it
 until I saw it
 so beautiful and desirable
 in You.

And as I trust You,
 You bring holiness into my innermost heart and
 outermost living.
 You make me holy!
 I can hardly even imagine it, and yet it is true.

You prove to me that I can be both human and holy.
You prove to me that I can be a true child of God
here and now,
in this present, evil world.
You prove it by Your living example.
You prove it by giving me Your own Holy Spirit
to live and breathe and desire within me.
And You promise that
what You have begun,
You will finish, beautifully and completely.

Praise to You, Jesus,
my holy and human Brother!
