

We go to great lengths to regulate what we put into our mouths, fearing we will harm ourselves. But what harms us most pours out of our own hearts. It corrupts our thoughts, our words, our attitudes, our actions, our loved ones, and our world. Our own hearts cause most of the death and destruction that plagues our daily lives.

Listen & Sing: Father, You See Our Need

© 2012 by Ken Bible