

We were rebels against God, determined to be our own lords, willfully ignorant of Him. It seems logical that He would come to us with a show of power, to warn us into submission. But instead He came gently as an unthreatening, helpless child. He came, not to force us to submit, but to lovingly invite us to Himself.

Listen & Sing: Infinite Lord

© 2011 by Ken Bible