

Growing through Prayer

No matter where you are in your journey with God, you can have a closer, more satisfying relationship with Him.

No matter where you are,
there are beautiful horizons still ahead.

He has even greater things waiting for you.
He deeply desires a fuller, richer relationship with you.

But realize that your relationship with God will grow like every other relationship.

It will grow
through time spent together, through trust, and
through shared experiences.

Communication is the breath of any relationship, and prayer is the breath of your relationship with God.

Growing in God depends on growing in prayer.

Constant, moment-by-moment prayer is important,
but so is devoted,
personal,
one-on-one time with God.
