

Reflection on Psalm 8

Father, Your greatness shines all around me!
All the earth radiates
    Your splendor,
    Your glory,
    Your might and majesty.

But You don't need spectacular displays to prove Your power.
It is so woven through the fabric of reality that mere children speak the awesome truth of who You are.

Creator, in Your humility,
    You even display Your glory through us.

When I look up at the clear night sky and see the vastness of time and space,
I am gripped by how very small and unworthy we are.
I wonder why You take any notice of us at all.
Yet You make us lesser versions of Yourself and surround us with Your magnificence.
You entrust Your own creations to us – all the varied creatures of land, sky, and sea.

Your condescension to us is yet another of Your marvelous, amazing works.
O my God, how glorious is Your name in all the earth!
