

Reflection on Psalm 130

Father, I come to You
in deep need,
completely dependent on Your mercy.

You have shown such amazing love to me,
yet my response to Your love is so cold and selfish.

My obedience is so
inconsistent.

As I come to You now,
I feel so unworthy.

If You gave me what I deserve,
I would be doomed.

But Your compassion never fails.
Your mercies are new every morning.
Every time I come to You, You forgive me
fully,
freely, and
forever.

So Father,
I come to You again.

I look up and
wait and hope.

I trust in the love that never tires of forgiving, and
the grace that helps me grow
more and more like Jesus.

Hymn: From These Depths, O Lord