

One God

Fears,
obligations,
desires,
anxieties,
personal goals –
All these daily, aggressively cry for our attention.

But realize that in the end,
only one thing will matter –
in this life and forever.
Only one thing will bring us complete and eternal fruitfulness and well-being:

Our relationship with God.
He is the one source and the one goal.
He is the one truth,
the one life,
the one perfect peace,
the one pure, lasting joy,
the one all-encompassing good.
We live and move and exist in Him.

Focus your life on Him.
Trust yourself to Him.
Love HIM with all your heart, soul, mind, and strength.
