

Interruptible

Jesus was interruptible.
Though He had so much to do
 and in so little time,
He never seemed rushed.
He seemed at peace with interruptions.
In fact, many of His greatest deeds and
 most important teachings
came in response to interruptions.
For Him, interruptions were the Father's leading.

I want to handle my interruptions
 like Jesus.

Jesus was always
 in the moment.
He was fully responsive to the people and
 the needs in front of Him.
His only agenda was
 the Father's agenda,
and the Father's agenda was
 love
 here and now.

I want to stay in the moment
 like Jesus.

Jesus had only
 one focus,
 one goal,
 one item on His to-do list:
to please His Father.

Father, I want my one focus and one goal to be
 You.
